Transfer Guide

At NYU Rory Meyers College of Nursing, we know that transferring to another school can be a difficult process. You have many different schools to choose from as you move from your two-year or four-year institution. You likely have questions about how your credits will transfer, what courses you'll take to complete your degree, and what to expect as a member of our student body. The following guide will seek to answer your questions about our application, the transfer process, and our program.

Why NYU Meyers?

NYU Meyers is leading the future in healthcare by preparing its students to practice in a range of clinical settings and challenging them to examine the social, emotional, cultural, complex, ethical, and environmental contexts in which wellness and illness occur. Students gain a scientific basis for and a holistic perspective on the nurse's role in promoting the health of individuals, families, and communities.

How to Apply

Part one : What to submit?

The first step is to complete an application via the Common Application. Students will register for an account and complete all sections of this electronic document. Please note that we do not have a paper application; all applications must be completed online. Transfer applicants must submit the following:

1. The Common Application, available at commonapp.org
2. Nonrefundable $80.00 application fee
3. Essay included on the Common Application (250 - 500 words)
4. Supplemental essay about "Why NYU Meyers?"
5. Up to two instructor evaluations
6. Official high school transcript(s)
7. Official college transcript(s)
8. Official score reports for standardized tests (if less than 32 college credits completed by the time of application)

Note that while we welcome questions about completing the application, all technical questions should be directed to Undergraduate Admissions at 212-998-4500 or nursing.admissions@nyu.edu.

Part two: Deadlines

First and foremost, students should submit all appropriate documents by the deadlines below. Applications will not be considered if submitted after the deadline. Additional documents should be submitted prior to the deadline so that they may be considered as part of the application (i.e. transcripts, instructor evaluations, etc).

Semester	Transfer
Fall	Priority deadline: March 1 Final deadline: April 1
Spring	Priority deadline: October 1 Final deadline: November 1

Additional information

If English is not your first language, please submit your TOEFL scores. Students that have completed at least three years at an english degree granting institution may waive this requirement.

Students should complete their FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid) at the time of their application. See fafsa.ed.gov for more information.

All required materials should be sent to:

New York University
Office of Undergraduate Admissions
383 Lafayette Street
New York, NY 10003

Part three: Transfer of credits

Students transferring from two- or four-year institutions may apply at any point (though it is recommended to have at least 32 credits). One of the most important considerations is how your credits will transfer. During their first two years, students at NYU Meyers complete 64 liberal arts and science prerequisite courses. They explore various topics and interests while preparing for their nursing coursework.

As such, students thinking of transferring are strongly encouraged to review which courses may transfer. The attached transfer credit evaluation template can help you to determine which courses may count toward degree requirements as well as help determine how many credits you may have left to complete. Please note that you can transfer up to 64 credits as a traditional transfer student.

If offered admission, transcripts from regionally accredited institutions are examined carefully to determine how many, if any, transfer credits will be granted. Once matriculated, transfer students must complete all liberal arts and science prerequisites before they are able to enter into their nursing coursework. Please note that there is no entrance exam for NYU Meyers students.

Part Four: How to pay

We understand that financing your education can be costly and that many students have to take out loans. In addition to your financial aid package, you may apply for scholarships at NYU Meyers. Here is the direct link: nursing.nyu.edu/current-students/scholarships.

Important points to remember as you apply for aid at NYU & NYU Meyers:

Applicants must complete FAFSA in order to be considered for any scholarship funds administered by NYU. For questions about completing the FAFSA application, you may contact the Federal Student Aid Information Center at 800-433-3243. You may also contact the NYU Office of Financial Aid at 212-998-4444 or financial.aid@nyu.edu.

For information regarding financial aid, you may also visit www.nyu.edu/financial.aid.

Part Five: FAQs

When should I expect to hear back?

We begin reviewing applications after the final deadline. For the spring semester, students may hear from us between November 1 and January 1. For the fall semester, students may hear from us any time between April 1 and June 15.

Can I check the status of my application?

Yes, students may check the status of their application through Albert in the application center. You may also call NYU Undergraduate Admission at 212-998-4500. For general questions email: nursing.admissions@nyu.edu.

Which program should I apply to?

Students with some college coursework and/or an associate's degree, you may apply as a traditional transfer student. Students with an RN license and some college credit should apply to our RN-to-BS program.

When do the semesters begin?

Spring: Late January

Fall: Late August/early September for students taking prerequisites

Nursing sequence students begin two weeks after the general NYU start date in the fall.

If I am accepted to the program, can I defer enrollment to the following semester?

Transfer students may not defer enrollment.

How long does it take to graduate?

Transfer students could complete their degree in as few as four semesters, if all 64 credits are transferred. Students typically complete 15 or more credits per semester; there is a total of 128 credits to complete the BS with a major in nursing.

Do I need to take any entrance exams or prereqs to transfer?

Students may apply for transfer at any point. However, there are specific degree requirements students must complete before they will enter into nursing coursework.

What are the requirements for a course to transfer?

Students must have completed the coursework with a grade of C or higher in the last ten years. Prerequisite coursework must be at least three semester credit hours.

What does the program cost?

About $25,000 per semester. More information is listed online.
